By using the AISysRev tool, you acknowledge and agree that it is intended for testing purposes only. This tool should not be considered a final solution and should not be relied upon to fully replace existing screening processes in systematic reviews (SRs). With all Large Language Models (LLMs), this AI tool may produce erroneous or inaccurate results, and there is a possibility that it may “hallucinate” - meaning it could generate content that is factually incorrect, misleading or irrelevant. Therefore, any decisions or conclusions drawn from this output should be carefully reviewed and verified before being acted upon.
